THE ROOM PAINT COLOUR TEST GUIDE

Try the colour. Choose with care.

A small test before a whole-room decision.

AI illustration. A trial in a room, not a named shade you can order.

LOOK / COMPARE / RECORD

Two home choices, a day-and-evening note and an approval record. Use them before the full paint order.

01 / MAKE THE TEST USEFUL

A real wall. A fair comparison.

Ask what the trial represents before judging it.

AI illustration. Wall patches, not an exact colour reference.

AGREE THE TRIAL

Name the sample product, shade and finish. Ask how the wall will be prepared and coated. Follow that system, not one online waiting time.

LET IT DRY AS INSTRUCTED

Berger recommends wall testing and checking after drying. A board may show paint differently from the wall.

Agree how the patches will be covered in the final work. Do not leave test marks unfinished.

02 / LOOK AT NORMAL LIFE

Daylight first. Evening light too.

Check the times when your family uses the room.

AI illustration. An evening trial, not an exact finished shade.

KEEP THE ROOM IN THE TEST

Look beside the floor, curtains and furniture. Try another wall if its light differs. Asian Paints explains how light and finish affect colour.

A SHORT OBSERVATION NOTE

Shade A / B / C: ____. Day: ____. Evening: ____. Near floor / curtain: ____. Concern: ____. Next check: ____.

03 / TWO MADE-UP HOME CHOICES

Keep the need. Change the choice.

These are examples, not our projects or shade recommendations.

HOME A / KEEPING THE SOFA

The first trial feels too yellow beside the existing brown sofa and curtain. A second feels calmer in the room. The family approves that code for the living room only.

HOME B / A ROOM USED AT NIGHT

A bedroom trial looks good at midday, but not beside the bed at night. The family tries another shade before ordering, rather than changing working lights to rescue it.

WHY THIS HELPS

The reason comes from daily use, not a claim that one shade works in every home.

04 / COLOUR IS NOT THE WHOLE ORDER

Same code? Check the finish too.

Do not treat a shade name as the complete product.

ASK AT THE SHOP

Does this trial use our intended product and finish? If not, what will you show us before we approve?

EXAMPLE / AN UNCLEAR ORDER

A note says only "cream bedroom". Which code, product and finish? A labelled trial and complete note avoid that gap.

IF THE CHOICE IS NOT AVAILABLE

Ask what is changing and why. Confirm sample cost and supply directly. Compare and approve a proposed substitute before it is used.

The Sector 6 listing does not prove stock or price. Keep product instructions and bills.

05 / COPY INTO PHONE NOTES

One room. One clear approval.

Use the same details with your family, shop and painter.

OUR APPROVED PAINT NOTE

Room / walls: ____. Brand / product: ____. Shade name / code: ____. Finish: ____. Dry trial date: ____. Day / evening notes: ____. Approved by / date: ____. Label photo / bill: ____.

BEFORE THE FULL ORDER

Read the note back with the painter. For a substitute, save a new approval. An old voice message is not enough.

IF AN AREA LOOKS WRONG

Check the supplied details and approved trial with the painter. Record the concern and agree the next step before ordering more.
